

Scene Out

Autism centre for children opens at uni

JUDITH KERR
judith.kerr@news.com.au

A $2 million child learning centre for children with autism opened at Griffith University Logan campus on Friday. The centre will provide expert care and early intervention services for toddlers and small children living with autism. It is the first of its kind in Logan. Federal MPs Bert van Manen (Forde) and Jim Chalmers (Rankin) were on hand along with state MP Shannon Fentiman. Griffith University's Pro Vice Chancellor Linda O'Brien welcomed the crowd of parents, carers and children.

Griffith University Pro Vice Chancellor Linda O'Brien, State MP Shannon Fentiman, federal MP Bert van Manen, AEIOU Foundation's Susan Rix and Alan Smith. PICTURES: JUDITH KERR

Callum, Priscila and Jemimah Veraa with Jason and Lella King.

Paul Watson, Margot Bailie and Grizzly Blair.

Linda O'Brien and Lesley Chenoweth.

Katrina Ives and Sean Redmond.

Mith Grimmjer, Sarah Smith and Russell Fryer.

Sofi Douglas, Hayley Hadfield and Catherine Focken.

John Barton and Petrina Smith.

Griffith UNIVERSITY
Queensland, Australia

#GRIFFITH YEAR ONE

Explore the fundamentals of teaching then major in an area that interests you with a Bachelor of Education.

Apply now, visit griffith.edu.au/education

BE REMARKABLE

V1 - ALNE01Z02.MA

ALBERT & LOGAN NEWS, Thursday, September 13, 2018 23